MANSLAUGHTER IS MASSIE VERDICT

BEAVERS WILL ASK BOARD TO HOLD UP ON PENSION ACTION

Chief Wants Body To Defer Consideration Until After Poole Trial. Withdrawal Expected If Assistant Is Acquitted.

DEFENSE TO FIGHT RENEWAL OF TRIAL

'Former Jeopardy' Claim Made; Cone Reported on 'Inside Track' If Beavers Is Retired Today.

If Chief of Police James L. Beavers is retired today by the pension board, it will be against his own will, according to reports Friday afternoon at the city hall. Beavers plans to ask the board to Korean Held as Shanghai defer action on the application which he filed the earlier part of the week until after disposition of the trial of A. Lamar Poole, first assistant chief in charge of the detective bureau. In in charge of the detective bureau. In the event of Poole's acquittal, Beavers will withdraw the application again, according to predictions.

The Fulton county grand jury Friday returned presentments urging that politics and dissension be eliminated from the police department. In its suggestions designed to be helpful in curbing criminals and preventing crime, the jury said that "we think that much can be accomplished by improving our police departments, through elimination, where possible, of politics and internal dissension."

At the same time, attorneys for Poole prepared to take legal redress to prevent re-enactment of the trial, claiming that Poole already has been in jeopardy, and that his legal rights will be violated if he is forced before the committee again—on the same charges.

Charges.

Three courses remained open to Poole's attorneys, it was said Friday. He can seek an injunction to prevent a new trial, a writ of prohibition to prevent the trial, or a writ of mandamus to force the committee to render a decision on the evidence at the former trial.

Alderman Guy Coleman was disqualified from casting a ballot at the former trial because he was absent from one meeting. The four remaining members were divided, two for conviction and two against. Thus the old charges were withdrawn and refiled by Beavers with consent of the complete the most seriously injured, and was expected to die before the most seriously injured, and was expected to die before the most seriously injured. by Reavers with consent of the com

In the event of Beavers' retirement today, there is much co jecture regarding a possible successor. Councilman G. Dan Bridges, chairman of the committee, and Councilman Homer Foster are committed to elevation of a departmental me ber, and that man is Detective Lieutenant T. O. Sturdivant. Two other members of the committee are said to favor selection of Judge John L. Cone, of the second division of the recorder's court, and Alderman Colemas, the recognized unknown equation of the committee in the departmental factionalism, is hanging in the balance. alism, is hanging in the balance.

Captain Jack Malcom also was mentioned as a possible successor, but Cone seemed to be the most acceptable compromise yet mentioned, and his chances for elevation were regarded as accellent by his friends.

Oath to British King

DUBLIN. Irish Free State, April 29.—(P)—The government bill to abolish the oath of allegiance to the British crown was passed on second reading by the dail eireann tonight after prolonged debate in which President Eamon De Valera declared that "we propose to get the last letter of our legal rights."

The vote on the measure, which has been assailed as repudiation of the Anglo-Irish treaty by J. H. Thomas, dominions secretary of Great Britain, was 77 to 71.

was 77 to 71.

"I do not fear negotiation with England," President De Valera told the dail, "but when we negotiate we will negotiate about a united Ireland and not before."

The government's opposition, which had allowed the measure to be adopted on first reading without a fight, massed all of its strength when the bill reached the second stage of its course through the legislature. The debate was impassioned and vehement. On the floor of the dail the feeling reached such a height that one member said he would like to kill another, and the

GOVERNOR'S RACE TO BE SHAPED UP BY ENTRIES TODAY

Formal announcements expected to be made today probably will indicate the political lineup in the gubernatorial campaign.

Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture; H. B. Edwards, Valdosta lawyer, and Dr. John R. Lewis already are candidates. Talmadge and Edwards have paid their entry fee of $250.

Arlie D. Tucker, speaker of the house, and John I. Kelley, an assistant attorney-general, are expected to get in the race today. Kelley said in Macon Friday night he had definitely determined to make the race. There is a general understanding that a sixth candidate will make an announcement "within the ext few days."

a general understanding that a sixth candidate will make an announcement "within the 'ext few days."

Developments in the senatorial contest between Representative Charles R. Crisp and Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. are not expected until Governor Russell returns to his office Monday. Abit Nix, of Athens, announced Friday that he would not make the race for the senate.

Shortly after Nix made his statement, friends here of Andrew C. Erwin, prominent Athens lawyer, said that he might get into the race for governor. Erwin has been a member of the general assembly and is one of the recognized political leaders of the state. He was named a delegate to the democratic national convention which will be held in Chicago.

Considerable interest in the prospective race for commissioner of agriculture was manifest at the statehouse Friday, coincidental with a visit there from Hamilton Ralls, of Hogansville. Ralls, whose friends boast that he is the only farmer so far mentioned for the job, said that he was "entirely pleased" by the reception given to his candidacy.

Three high Japanese officials, General Yoshinori Shirakawa, commanderinchief of the Japanese land forces in the Shanghai area, top left; General Kenkichi Lyeda, second in command, top right, and Admiral Kichisaburo Nomuro, bottom, were injured and Y. Kawabata, president of the Japanese Residents' Association, was fatally wounded by a bomb early Friday.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(A)—
The senate banking committee today authorized the employment of accountants and investigators to go through the records of the New York Stock Exchange in its inquiry into market practices.

The committee decided to retain the accounting firm of George K. Watson to conduct the investigation of the books and records of the exchange and brokerage houses.

The employment of four special investigators also was authorized but their names were not divulged.

William A. Gray, committee counsel, said it might be three weeks before the open inquiry could be resumed.

1,400 Children, Singing in Chorus, Provide Awe-Inspiring Spectacle

The festival concert given in the city auditorium Friday night by a chorus of 1,400 children selected from the Atlanta public schools, under the direction of Lawrence G. Nilson, director of music of the Atlanta schools, was one of the most spectacular, yet ethereally beautiful, thing of its kind that audiences of Atlanta have witnessed in many a day. And it was heard by one of the largest audiences to attend anything of this kind in many a day, too. When the curtain rose, there followed a breathless hush, for reaching almost to the top of the vast stage was a huge flower-bed, as it were, of smiling faces and happy youth, blossoming in pastel shades that created a picture never to be forgotten.

And the beauty of this unusual concert lay in the fact that the singing of the children was as lovely as the picture they formed. Lawrence G. Nilson is to be congratulated on the splendid training and excellent ensemble evidenced in the entire program, as are the teachers who trained individual groups in the various schools. Atlanta citizenry should be proud of the cultural advantages their children as the teachers who trained individual groups in the various schools. Atlanta citizenry should be proud of the cultural advantages their children as the fresh, young voices, with never a strained tone or a forced effect, mad the result was inspired beauty.

The program opened with Mrs. H. H. A. Beach's "The Year's at the Spring," done with charming delicacy. Following were Mendelssohn's "I Would That My Love," Fletcher's "A Madrigal of Spring," and Martin's WARREEN PR

ARMS MEET HALTS FOR PEACE PARLEY

Decision by League Is Expected Today on Sino-Jap Controversy.

GENEVA, April 29.-(P)-The statesmen of the "big five"—the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany-and the general commission of the world disarmament conference decided abruptly today to suspend activities for two weeks, leaving the coast clear for a League of Nations decision tomorrow on the Sino-Japanese dispute.

A plenary session of the assembly of the League will hear a long report of its committee of nineteen, sub-mitted as a program to expedite the Sino-Japanese armistice negotiations at Shanghai. The committee will recommend that the assembly accept a compromise advanced in Shanghai peace conferences by Sir Miles Lampson, British minister to China, providing for gradual withdrawal of Japanese forces toward the International Settlement. The Japanese now have a ring of entrenched soldiers around the city. The committee's program would authorize the League's mixed commission in the far east to report to the assembly any neglect on the part of either party to execute the armistice agreement. sittee will recommend that the other days having been dark and mber. Some little time before, Lieutenant Massle, Jones and Lord appeared and just after they arrived the jury came in looking as expressionless as usual.

Then there was a wait until Mr. Kelley arrived, a wait which became one of strained silence, for the spectators didn't chatter as usual. So painful was this period that while the jury tried not to look at the december of the statement of the realist the realist that was the realist to the realist that the statement of the realist that was the realist tha fendants, those awaiting the verdict anxiously scanned the faces of the men in the box. Mrs. Massie put her arm into her husband's and clung tightly to him.

Finally, Mr. Kelley appeared, just as Judge Davis looked out from his chambers on the side to see if everyone were ready.

When the judge took the bench he looked at the jury and said: "Gentlemen, have you arrived upon verdict?"

The form sheets on which the verdict was written were taken from John Stone, foreman of the jury, by a clerk and handed to the judge read them through quickly and then gave them to the clerk to read. The clerk's voice was trembling with nervousness and his hands shook as he read the first one:

"Grace Fortescue, guilty of manslaughter, leniency recommended."

Mrs. Fortescue half smiled and lifted her chin defiantly, not a movement of her eyes or lips portraying any emotion. She was much more self-contained than she often had been through the trial.

Albert O. Jones and Edward J. Lord, the two enlisted men, then were found guilty, with recommendations for leniency. Jones was red, but Lord half shrugged his shoulders.

Mrs. Massie's sobs became half hys terical and then she calmed a little as her husband leaned over and said: "Don't cry, darling."

It was the only sound in the cour room and many spectators were visibly affected and weeping with her. Even some of the jurors seemed affected. The wives of several navy men broke into muffled but furious exclamations and the way the navy felt was made obvious a few moments later. Darrow Depressed.

Mr. Darrow seemed quite depressed by the verdict. His whole huge frame was sunk into itself as he slid down on a chair, and his chin fell toward Then came the question of custody until that time and nobody seemed quite to know what were the terms of agreement between the territory and the navy regarding custody. Finally, Barry S. Ulrich, assistant prosecutor who had charge of the case in the beginning, said he recalled that the agreement was for custody by the navy until the end of the case. Mr. Kelley, who became prosecutor after the agreement, said prosecutor after the agreement, said if there were a navy officer present who would be responsible for the de-fendants and produce them in court, he would make no objection.

At this point, Captain Ward Wortman, commander of the submarine base, rose and said, hesitatingly, his voice half audible and shaking:

Captain Wortman called back: "You know damn little." Judge Davis looked reprovingly but did not say anything, allowing, as he has all along, for the strained feelings on both sides. Then he excused the jury and the jurors left the building gladly. The defendants followed, Mrs. Massie wearing hitterly with her the jury and ing gladly. The climax of the long dramacharged case was over quickly, requiring only about 10 minutes.

The GOOD SAMARITAN CAMPAIGN offers substantial financial assistance to churches or charities of the community which may be interested in sharing a portion of the $6,000.00 in cash which is to be awarded during the next three months.

The Good Samaritan Campaign is made possible by the merchants and businesses whose advertisements appear on this page. They have been inspired by the manifold good purposes its operation suggests, and churches and charities are invited to participate under the conditions suggested below.

Whatever you buy from the stores, shops and enterprises advertising on this page counts for votes—one vote for each cent spent. Ask for your coupons, which a few give—and in other cases cash register receipts or duplicate sales, slips. Headquarters are at 137 Peachtree Arcade, street level floor, and entry blanks and other information can be there. Telephone MAin 0442.

One vote for each cent of expenditure in cash purchases from participating businesses or firms. One vote for each cent paid on account, provided such receipts are voted directly by the purchaser. In no case shall uncalled for receipts be given to any organization or individual by participating firm to be voted by other than purchaser.

Businesses and merchants are required to dispose of all uncalled for and unusued cash register tickets, duplicate cash sales slips which might otherwise be collected by contesting organizations and voted. The purpose and theory of the campaign is to make all tokens voted representative of actual transactions by interested individuals and organizations. The co-operation of both the merchant and the individual is necessary to the full attainment of the purposes of the campaign—to stimulate buying . . . to speed payment of accounts . . . to generally improve community business.

The right to throw out all votes offered which may indicate a violation of the letter and spirit of the rules and purposes of the campaign is reserved.

Representatives of organizations entered in the campaign are requested to cast their votes at the Campaign Headquarters, Main Floor Peachtree Arcade, as frequently as possible, at least

The standing of competing organizations will be announced each Wednesday. Votes for each given week must be in by Saturday, 6 o'clock p. m.

Read Every Advertisement Carefully Only then will you know what counts for votes. In some cases it is the cash register ticket which you have been customarily receiving and disposing of . . . PHYSICIAN IS SOUGHT IN DEATH OF CO-EDS

Border Watched as Police Probe "Criminal Operation Industry."

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 29.—(P)
A sinister trail of malpractice drew investigators today as they peered behind the scene of the death of two University of Oklahoma co-eds.

Officers sought Dr. Richard E. Thacker, 62-year-old physician, who is charged with murder for an alleged illegal operation, and prepared to resist an osteopath's efforts to obtain release from the cell in which he is held on a similar accusation.

Shadowy private homes and alleged paid "go-betweens" in what he said was a virtual "criminal operation industry" were probed by County Attorney Lewis R, Morris.

Investigators assert Mrs. Frank Lee, secret bride of a University of Oklahoma athlete, and Virginia Wyckoff, both university co-eds, are only the latest of 10 or more victims of recent criminal operations, here.

only the latest of 10 or more victims of recent criminal operations, here. Hearing was set for Monday on the attempt of Dr. J. W. Eisiminger, the osteopath, to obtain bond on a murder charge in connection with the death this week of Miss Wyckoff. Morris said he would oppose the habeas corpus petition.

A report that Dr. Thacker, accused of performing an operation on Mrs. Lee, was seen in Fort Worth, Texas, en route to El Paso, caused Morris to ask authorities at the international boundary to watch for the fugitive. He disappeared Saturdy.

Senators and Congressmen Not Forced To Put Clerks and Employes Under Civil Service Re-

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

(Copyright, 1982, by the United Press.) WASHINGTON, April 29.—(UP) No wonder the house voted down the proposal of Representative Grant Mouser, republican, Ohio, to compel congressmen and senators to cut their wives, daughters, sons, in-laws and other relatives off the pay roll. In the first place, probably half of congress indulges in this practice. In congress indulges in this practice. In the second place, no record roll call on the Mouser amendment to the economy bill was required so that there was no chance of a congressman getting caught voting to keep his wife on government salary.

The fact is that congress is unwilling to confine itself to the same restrictions it applies to the civil service. The civil service law requires that not more than two members of service. The civil service law requires that not more than two members of the same family may be on the government pay roll under civil service. Senators and congressmen do not put their employes under civil service. Each member chooses his clerks without interference by anyone and with no restrictions.

Each house members is allowed $5, 000 a year for clerk hire. He can employ two clerks and divide the salary money as he wishes except that neither can draw more than $3,900 a year. So can draw more than $3,900 a year. So quite often the wife will go on for $3,000—for which she may or may not do any work—and the working member of the office staff will receive the other $2,000. Sometimes the member gets big hearted and his relatives takes the short end of the cut.

The pay roll racket is so prevalent that the mere publication by the United Press of a few instances has brought to the United Press bureau here a constant stream of telephone calls and letters about additional cases.

FIGURES SHOW LIFE INSURANCE STOOD THE TEST

Safest Investment, Protection of Home, Loved Ones and Business, Says Walter Powell of John Hancock Mutual Life.

Insurance indisputably stood out as the bulwark of business and financial stability during the depression, according to Walter Powell, general agent for Georgia for the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company.

"Not because I am in the insurance business," he emphasized, "but because of proven facts, which reveal that insurance is the safest investment in the world, not only from a monetary standpoint, but also for protection and safety of loved ones, happiness of home and with assurance it protects the smallest to our gigantic business enterprises."

to our gigantic business enterprises."

Mr. Powell pointed to an editorial in the Manufacturers Record under the caption "Life Insurance Stood the Test," which stated that passing through one of the most prolonged business and financial disturbances in history, the life insurance industry is setting a pace in business revival. It showed that more life fusurance was written in December than in the corresponding month of 1930, and January sales were 6 per cent in excess of January, 1931. While all classes of life insurance contributed to the increase, the gain in group insurance was more than 42 per cent. The total amount of new business during January by 44 legal reserve companies, having 82 per cent of the life insurance in force in the United States, amounted to $944.848.000.

68,000.000 POLICYHOLDERS.

In 1931 more than $16,400,000,000

amounted to $944.848.000.

68,000,000 POLICYHOLDERS.
In 1931 more than $16,400,000,000 of life insurance was purchased by the people of the country—9.5 per cent increase over the 10-year average.

It is amazing to know that there are now more than 68,000,000 policyholders, and more than 54 per cent of the population of the United States carries some form of life insurance.

It is estimated that at the end of last year the aggregate assets of all life insurance companies were $20,200,000,000—a gain of $2,700,000,000 since December, 1929. In the last decade their assets have grown two-and-a-half times and are now nearly five times the $4,164,000,000 reported for 1911.

Atlanta's Per Capita Wealth Over $2,000

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has compiled per capita wealth and debt figures for several of the largest cities of the United States. The per capita wealth of Atlanta totals $2,148.73, being higher than that of cities such as Chicago, Denver, Memphis, Minneapolis, New Orleans, Pittsburgh and Seattle. The per capita debt in Atlanta is the smallest of any of the cities listed, with the exception of Chicago and Washington, D. C., with $54.06.

stabilizing force has been exerted in the critical times through which the country has been passing. Except for unusual demands of policyholders for loans, the investments in city, county and municipal bonds, in public utilities and railroad stocks undoubtedly would have been greater. As it is, these investments have been of vast help in stabilizing work, in promoting building operations and public improvements and in protecting capital invested in property.

"With forced curtailment of credit by the banks, life insurance has been the salvation of policyholders who were able to secure loans on their invested insurance savings. The aggregate amount of policy loans and premium loans held by life insurance companies at the end of 1931 was in excess of $2,943,000,000. Large as this sum is, it represents less than 16 per cent of the total assets of the industry.

Dr. Soule says reports indicate that there will not be much change in the acreage planted to cotton in Georgia this year—3,471,000 acres last year—unless weather conditions during May should be unusually favorable or unfavorable and the government loans to farmers should not redirect farming toward a system of all—cotton farming, away from which "we have gradually progressed during the last 20 years through our agricultural teachings."

ABOLITION OF DRY LAW URGED IN TALK BY KEY

Present System Attacked as Crime Breeder in Speech Before Automobile Dealers.

Abolition of the present prohibition laws as a panacea for the present depression, relief from the almost unbearable tax burden and stabilization of the national, state, county and city governments were urged Friday by Mayor James L. Key in addressing 200 Georgia Chevrolet dealers.

The mayor attacked the present system as a breeder of crime and a protector of the racketeer and bootlegger. He said with a governmental monopoly on the sales and the profits going into the various governmental treasuries the problem of balancing the budgets would be solved and the purchasing power of the people restored.

"No solution of our economic prob-"No solution of our economic problem will ever be accomplished until the prohibition question is dealt with honestly and courageously, dealt with honestly and in the public interest and free from hypocrisy. A complete governmental monopoly of alcoholic beverages would accomplish two things. First, it would eradicate bootleggers and gansters and racketeers. Second, it would relieve the strain upon every public treasury in the United States, all the way down from the national treasury to the municipal treasury.

"If prohibition had eradicated liquor, or could eradicate it, I would be in favor of continuing prohibition. But what man among you that wants a drink of liquor experiences any difficulty in getting hold of it? I am not pro-beer, pro-wine or pro-liquor. I am pro-taxpayer and pro a general cleansing of the public morals and respect for law."

LUUUNILUUNL

A complete survey of higher educational institutions of the university system of Georgia, to be undertaken immediately, was announced late Friday by the board of regents. Formal announcement of the survey was made by W. D. Anderson, of Mason, chairman of the regents, who said the board had accepted a gift of $20.000 for that purpose. The source of the gift was not announced.

Chancellor C. M. Snelling, of the university system, in attendance on executive sessions of the regents, said that the survey would include all physical equipment as well as educational facilities of the institutions.

Dr. Snelling said the survey would go into every detail of each school's activities and tell wherein any college was not meeting the highest standards of requirements, if such should be the case, and to make recommendations for meeting any situation that might be found.

Georgians Still Trying To Pay Defunct Sales Tax

Some folks in Georgia want to pay a tax that no longer exists. Paul H. Doyal, chairman of the state revenue commission, said Fri-day that many persons are still of-fering to pay a gross receipts tax which went into the discard on Jan-which went into the discard on January I.

Constant inquiries are coming in for blanks on which to make out gross receipts tax returns, the chairman said, but he wants the people to know that none is due for the year 1932 but those who have not made returns and paid the tax for the years the act was in force are liable to the tax and penalties that have accrued.

OUR VITAL RAIE SECURITIES.

The vital importance to the financial stability of the country in the rehabilitation of railroad securities of all kinds is illustrated in the recently published statement that the life insurance companies operating in New York, which for all practical purposes represent all the life insurance companies doing business in the United States, hold railroad Alfred bonds of a value exceeding $2,900 .- Alfred 000,000.

The interest on these bonds at 1-2 per cent was equivalent to one-third of all the dividends, or one-fourth of all the death losses, paid by these companies during 1930.

day, that you can't get away with it. And the point I wish to make is that bright people don't invite humiliation by trying thing that can't be done.

Let's suppose that you cut school and go with a number of your classmates to a carnival in a neighboring town. Let's suppose that you do that or similar things a number of times. And suppose, further —which is a very easy job of supposing that you tell me nothing about it.
It may not be helpful to discipline, but

It may not be helpful to allow nor I concede that neither the cutting nor I concede that neither the cutting nor one is young and spring is in the air, kid pranks are as natural as the running of

But what about the deceit? You tell me nothing because you know I' wouldn't approve. Your silence is as much an effort to deceive me as though you had told me an outright falsehood. Isn't it? But it doesn't deceive me long. Somebody sees you away from school and tells about it. Always there is somebody to tell. Always. And you are shamed by exposure.

What, then, can you hope to gain by silence? Since the purpose of it is to deceive, and it never works, why risk it? You can't profit by it, for murder will out; and you invite the certain punishment of a guilty conscience, humiliation and loss of self-respect.

Why magnify a small offense by sneaking when you know the sneaking won't hide the offense?

Stupidity, however, isn't the worst of it. This business of doing forbidden things secretly becomes a habit. It the kind of thing that this generation calls "two-timing." And a girl who gets the habit of two-timing a dad who supports and trusts and loves her will as readily two-time a husband who supports and trusts and loves

I don't mean that cutting classes is an offense equal to that of betraying a husband, but I do mean that the habit of sneaking soon gives a permanent warp to the character, and a girl who habitually deceives her parents to escape criticism will later deceive her mate and her neighbors when similarly tempted. Sometimes, my dear, it takes a little courage to be square, but there's a lot of satisfaction in feeling respectable.

Bridges said Friday that several other members of the department will be forced to retire through enforced physical examinations as soon as the Poole-Beavers row is settled.

Among them are several officers and patrolmen, including Night Chief C. P. Connally.

The police committee has set next Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock as the time for resumption of the Poole trial, but an effort to throw the battle into the superior courts is expected before that time.

A conference of attorneys was held Friday afternoon and another is slated for this morning to determine just what action they will take.

A MODERN MEDICAL MIRACLE, A New York correspondent writes that these articles are much enjoyed by him and have brought benefit to his family and friends. Then he de-poses and says:

Several years ago at the age of 63 while doing clerical work involving much telephoning. I suddenly became quite ill with dizziness, a decided deafness in one ear, followed by nausea and violent vomiting. A feeling of grogginess produced an unstandiness on my feet, causing me to stagger through the streets like a drunken sailor—not the least distressing condition. My appetite seemed unimpaired but the uncertainty of balance and frequent recurrence of the vomiting, usurecurrence of the vomiting, usually preceded by increased head noises and a feverish condition, made me miserable.

Doctor prescribed rest, diet . . . Ear specialist did help to partially restore the hearing, but there was no lasting benefit. Finally I placed myself in the hands of Dr. ——, an osteopathic physician

French Cotton Purchases In America Show Increase

Exports of Staple From U. S. Jump 1,336,000

Bales Above First Eight Months of Last Season.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(P)—France is the latest foreign customer to take advantage of the low prices prevailing in American cotton shops which are doing a rush export business.

That country took 87,000 bales in March, which was 50 per cent more than a year ago, and the largest French purchase for that month since the 1918-1919 season.

The total March exports were 927,000 bales, 53 per cent greater than last year, and the heaviest since 1914-1915, with the exception of the 1926-1927 marketing period.

This activity, the agriculture department said today, was due largely to the continued interest of Japan and China in American cotton, Other foreign buyers are also taking more than last year's purchases.

SUMMER CAMP TODAY HEALTH CONVENTION HELD AT CEDARTOWN

WASHINGTON. April 29.—(P)— The tariff commission said today that Edward P. Knight, an employe of the commission in New York and a recent commission in New York and a recent senate stock market investigation witness, has been suispended because of his arrest in 1929 for juggling accounts of a brokerage house and also for failure to make a statement as requested by the commissi n.

His application did not state that he had been accused of a grand larceny offense, the fact of which was learned by the commission since Knight testified before the senate committee. The commission asked him for a statement and, when he failed to make one, suspended him.

THREE NEGROES HELD

IN LOUISIANA CRIME SHREVEPORT, La., April 29.—(A) SHREVEPORT, La., April 29.—(A). Three negro suspects were arrested early today after R. C. Fay told police he had been held up on the outskirts of the city by three negroes, two of whom attacked his 22-year-old girl companion in his automobile.

The girl was brought to a hospital here, where physicians said her condition was not serious and allowed her to go home.

Forty years and more ago, a business was started. It grew and grew. Its scope was broadened, its service was widened, and its long list of customers lengthened.

Today that one store has grown into an organization of 400 units, each doing several times the annual business of the original store. There must have been some Miracle to have wrought this prog-

Just What Is This Miracle That Has Made Rogers Stores What They Are?

It is the selling of groceries and food products at cash prices.

It is merchandising to keep these prices at the lowest levels.

It is insistence on only first and highest quality in every purchase.

It is the rendering of courteous service to every customer.

It is the fulfillment of our slogan, "Where Satisfaction Is a Certainty."

If this attainment merits a continuance of your patronage we are happy.

'So Big,' Ferber Story, Showing at Georgia

Regardless of the splendid list of talking screen productions already brought out in 1932, there can be no doubt that "The Miracle Man," which ahows at the Paramount theater beginning today, will live as one of the greatest of the season.

This picture, with a cast, including Chester Morris, Sylvia Sidney, Hobart Bosworth, Robert Coogan and other great players, is one of the most moving things the screen has yet done. It grips the heart of every auditor and it teaches a lesson that none can ever forget. It is even greater as a talkie than it was when made for the silent screen.

The R-K-O vaudeville program on the new bill is headed by Emile Boreo, probably the most versatile man on the vaudeville stage today. Billy Wells and the Four Fays, Yorke and Goldie and Jean Carr are also on the program.

Entrance Into League

DETROIT, April 29.—(4P)—After 12 years of study within the organization, the National League of Women Voters went on record today as favoring entrance of the United States into the League of Nations.

The resolution, which came at the close of the league's five-day biennial convention, was adopted with only two or three dissenting ballots.

For 12 years—since the founding of the organization—the League of Nations has been before the group as a study project, but today was the first time it has been brought forward for support action. vard for support action.

RACKERS RALLY IN NINTH TO BEAT PELS, 6-5

BULLDOGS, 13-0;

Oglethorpe and Auburn Win To Hold Top Place in Dixie League.

Dixie League

By Jack Troy.

Oglethorpe and Auburn kept apace in the Dixie league pennant, race Friday, the former defeating Georgia and the latter downing Georgia Techafter a bitter battle. And if it is any news to the campfire followers, the Stormy Petrels of Coach Frank Anderson look right now like the class of the league and the favorite team to win flag honors.

of the league and the ravorite feath to win flag hongrs.

Unless the race departs radically from form, the Oglethorpe-Auburn series, two games at Auburn and two games in Atlanta, will amount to a championship play-off. The clubs meet May 6 and 7 at Auburn and May 13 and 14 here.

BRILLIANT PITCHING.

When the award for the leading pitcher in the Dixic College league is handed out this year. Charley (Bo) Mitchell, will be there to receive it—if he continues to show the same mastery during the remainder of the season that he has displayed to date. For long Bo Mitchell yesterday allowed Georgia only four hits and struck out eight batters as he pitched Oglethorpe to a convincing 13-to-0 victory at Ponce de Leon park. In the first of a two-game series which will end the season's competition bewill end the season's competition be-tween the two schools. The final game will be played today, following the Cracker-Pelican contest.

The game was seven unings by agreement and the way Mitchell was notehing there is no way of knowing flow many more Bulldog batsmen would have swung futiley at his the lineup at this time. There are too baffling delivery.

Catfish Smith was Coach Bill White's choice for opening pitcher, and the Stormy Petrels got to Catfish for 11 hits, seven of them in the first two innings when nine runs were spored. Smith stayed the full seven innings but in only the last inning was he able to turn back the Petre's short stop, also got two hits.

Georgia committed six errors afield, while Oglethorpe played spotless ball.

Every Oglethorpe player got at least one hit.

That was a startling inning, that last half of the first. Georgia had gone down in order and then the Petrels came up for their half. And before it was over the large number of fans who stayed after the Cracker-Pelican game to see the collegians play, were coming up for air,

Four singles, coupled with an er-ror, contributed to the four runs scored. Hal Martin led off with a line blast to center, the first of the many hits to caroom off Catfish's delivery. Anderson was safe on an er-rer. And Whitley singled, filling the bases. Tharley George came up and drove in Martin Anderson with a hard single. Sam Baker followed with another single that scored Whitley and George, Oglethorpe had bat-ted all the way around the order. That was only a beginning. In the second inning Martin again led off with a one-base hit. Anderson sin_led and Whitley sacrificed Anderson to second and Martin to third. George-walked, filling be bases, And Baker walked, forcing in Martin Moore liftwalked toreing in Martin Shore inte-ed a fly to Chandler, who comptly dropped it, and Anderson scor d. George came in on an error and Vance singled, scoring Baker. Moore scored the fifth run on an error.

BO SINGLES. Moore singled, stole second and rude home on Bryant's single in the fourth. Mitchell's single sent Bryant across. The final two runs were marke up in the fifth when Whitley walked, went to third on George's double and see, of

Tech Lacrossemen

ATHENS, Ga., April 29.—Georgia's lacrosse team, Southern conference champion for the past five years, defeated Georgia Tech here today in the first game of the season between the two teams. The score was 10-1.

Georgia scored five goals in the first half and Tech got its only point in that period. Neither team was able to score during the first nine minutes of play until Head, of Georgia, broke the 0-0 deadlock with a fast shot into the goal.

Head and Waters starred for Georgia with two goals each, while Captain Bill Strickland was a powerful cog in the Bulldog attack.

Having been reared under a succession of slogans, such as "Do One Good Turn Each Day," "Be Always Kind and True,"
"Semper Fidelis" and "Never Give a Sucker an Even Break," your old correspondent is happy to throw them all into one and come forward with a cure for the pitching ills of the Atlanta

It is barely possible that the pitchers do not know what they are doing out there on the mound. Hence the explanation, as supplied by the Associated Technical Societies Review, is of more than passing interest.

It explains what makes a curve ball curve, and possibly what makes the wildcat wild, all in a very simple manner so that any intelligent child may understand. Says the Review: "The ball is thrown forward by the arm of the pitcher, at a considerable velocity x and sideways by the motion of the pitcher's wrist at a much less velocity x and sideways by the motion of the piccher's wrist as a much less velocity y.

"If w is the weight of the ball we will have a momentum in one direction wx and in a direction at right angles thereto a momentum wy. "If we say the resistance of the air is proportional to the square of the velocity, the forward motion would be resisted by a force cx2 and the sideway motion by a force cy2. Obviously the first is much the larger, therefore the forward motion would be retarded much more than "If we say the resistance of the air is proportional to the sideway motion by a force cy2. Obviously the first is much the sideway motion by a force cy2. Obviously the first is much the sideway motion by a force cy2. Obviously the first is much the sideway motion and a curve would result."

Are you reading? This should prove invaluable to Mr. Rube Marquard, the coach of the Cracker pitchers. With this simple formula, Mr. Marquard may proceed with no trepidation at all.

Rlathen, the Moose Hunter, or any other

Rlathen, the

Blethen is getting enough XY on the ball so as to provide enough CX2 and CY2.

At any rate, it is a relief to have thus solved the pitching ills and fixed it so that Mr. Red Barron and Mr. Marquard may sleep 'o nights, so to speak.

BARRON HAS MANY PROBLEMS.

If two or three letters, the last one from E. L. Nonemacher, give an indication of how the baseball fans are feeling, there is Barron, however, cannot very well place himself in the lineup at this time. There are too many problems to be ironed out. Buster Chatham, the new shortstop obtained from the Boston Braves, presents one. He is an "A" man and hence there must be some place made for him by getting rid of an "A" man, probably from the outfield.

Barron is anxious, of course, to get his club in a settled condition and see what it can do. Too many changes cannot do other than work harm. It has been shown that Si Rosenthal belongs in the outfield and not at first base. It also applied to the constitution of the con Charley George, brilliant Oglethorpe that belongs in the outfield and not at first base. It also aphits, one a double. Incidentally, this was one of the only two extra base, hits slugged out during the game. Webb, Georgia shortstop, got the other, a triple, in the fifth, but fast fielding by Oglethorpe got the side out without a score. Parks, Georgia second baseman, and Martin, Petrel on the list and play ball. The important thing now, is to on the list and play ball. The important thing now, is to on the list and play ball. The important thing now, is to possible that Si Rosenthal who replaced that Si Rosenthal that belongs in the outfield and not at first base. It also appears that Tom Nash fits in well at first. If Chatham is the answer to a manager's prayer and fits in at second or short, then another problem will be solved. Barron would like an all "A" infield. But getting it is another matter. It will be some time, it appears, before Barron will be able to put himself the solved. The important thing now, is to on the list and play ball. RRRRREVENGE FOR THE CAST-OFFS.

That loud noise which disturbed your calm along about supper time last night, was made by the Brooklyn Robins, "Mother Carey's Chickens," falling into the National league cellar.

Any disturbance thereafter was the noise caused by Babe Herman laughing in the Cincinnati clubhouse when he heard the news. He may have been joined by Chick Hafey, who was cast-off by the now seventh place St. Louis Cardinals. Babe Herman, however, no doubt laughed loudest of all.

The plight of the Brooklyn Robins is particularly pleasing a great number of people who resented the firing of Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson. Mr. Robinson was never in last place. It would seem that Brooklyn needs Your Uncle Wilbert and the laughable Babe Herman, who learned to catch flies in self-defense to keep them from caroming off his skull.

RUDOLPH LASKOWSKI.

Rudolph Laskowski, who quit high school and came to Knoxville for a baseball tryout at the tender age of 17, is one of the baseball romances which do the game good.

Laskowski had no inherent love for the game. It was developed on the Chicago sand lots. And his chances to play at Knoxville were about nil. Yet things occasionally work out to prove there is a destiny that shapes our ends.

The experienced player failed to go and Laskowski was tossed in there to fill in until a shortstop could be found. And now they can't get Laskowski out. He is hitting .426 in 14 games and fielding well. That, at 17 years of age, in a Class A league, reads like "Phil the Fiddler, or Bound to Rise."

CORSAGES IN ATHENS.

H. J. Stegeman, who is sponsoring the annual high school Beaten by Georgia meet at Athens next week, has added competition for golf, tennis and swimming teams. Which encourages those minor sports. A corsage to Mr. Stegeman.

AND ONE FOR HARRY ROBERTSON.

Lake Russell, coach of the Mercer football team, in addressing the alumni here this week, said of Harry Robertson's Oglethorpe teams, "I have never seen a poorly coached Oglethorpe team since Robertson went there.

BARNES SCORES

Red's Three-Ply Blow Sends Butler Home To Tie Count.

By Jimmy Jones. "Red" Barron, the "boy manager," showed Jakey Atz, pennant-winning pilot of Texas league renown and now the leader of the New Orleans Pelicans, a sample of strategy rarely seen in these days of prodigious slugging when he had little Bobby Goff, his shortstop, bunt Red Barnes home from third with a squeeze play in the ninth inning of yesterday's game to give the Crackers the series-opener, 6 to 5.

As is frequently the case, the Crackers

BARNES' TRIPLE WINS. Charley Rowland, the catcher, opened the last inning with a single, his third hit of the game, and Ralph Butler, rookie receiver, ran for him. Baxter Williams batted for Hearn and sacrificed Butler to second. Then Red Barnes—the leadoff man—larruped a low one into center field that went for a triple, scoring Butler with the

for a triple, scoring Butler with the tying run.

Barnes rested on third with the winning tally when Goff came to bat. The diminutive Cracker shortfielder, who is making a strong bid to retain his job in the face of menacing changes, already had a pair of two-baggers to his credit. Barron, knowing Goff to be a good bunter, told him to lay the ball down and he dumped one down the third-base line, catching Sal Gliatto off balance and Barnes charged across the plate to break up a hard-fought game.

MISS CHANCE.

MISS CHANCE.

MISS CHANCE.

The Crackers, who trailed the Pellicans right on up to the important juncture, had missed a great chance to tie the score in the eighth. Si Rosenthal beat out a hit to second to open the inning and Johnny Chapman smote a tremendous drive to the center field embankment. Hossenthal hesitated about coming in from third too long and finally made it back to the bag after being caught in a chase. Chapman got only a two-bagger out of the blow. Tom Nash sent a scorcher to short and while McMahon was pegging him out, Rosenthal crossed the plats. Roy Carlyle, going in as pinch batsman for Mock, rolled meekly to Sturdy and Cummings made the third out with the tying run still on base.

on Cummings' single to left, Rowland's one-timer to center and Pitcher Bill Perrin's wild toss trying to catch Rowland off first.

The Pels gained what looked like a convincing lead in the next two innings, however, with a run in the third on successive singles by Perrin, Harrington and Sturdy and another in the fourth when "Chick" Autry, former Cracker catcher, doubled Eddie Rose home after the latter had gone safe on Rosenthal's muff of his fly.

CRACKERS SCORE.

In the sixth, Eddie Rose led off with a clean homer over the little green fence in right and in the eighth the Pells tacked on another just for good measure. The Crackers managed to get one in their half of the eighth, despite two tough breaks, one coming when Southpaw Perrin's second wild toss to first, in an effort to catch Rosenthal, hit Manager Barron, who was coaching on the lines, on the shins, keeping Si from advancing. Then Rosenthal failed to make it

At first glance it would seem to be the mile. But the main vote went to the quarter or the half, which are now extended sprints. For example, Brocksmith, of Indiana, recently ran a mile around 4.12 and a short while later ran two miles around while later ran two miles around 9.18. Gene Venzke rated this a remarkable performance in one afternoon.

POLICE SQUABBLE IS SCORED BY JURY

Rooms Is Launched.

Elimination of politics and internal dissension from the Atlanta police department, now torn by the bitter fight between Chief James L. Beavers and A. Lamar Poole, suspended first assistant chief, was urged Friday in presentments of the retiring March April Fulton county grand jury.

Recommending closing of pool rooms, "meeting places for many criminals, where crimes are planned," the jury advocated a war on criminal vagrants, and charged that gangs of criminals are responsible for much of today's crime, where heretofore crimes were committed by individuals. All remedies for crime will be full unless "we go to the source of the trooble," the grand jury said "There is a strong conviction among our judges and other thinkers of today that there has been and is now a general moral breakdown in the home training of our children, evidenced by the increased number of youthful criminals along with a general lack of restraint and disrespect for law and order. Our observation shows that the increased number of youthful criminals along with a general lack of restraint and disrespect for law and order. Bad Whisky Blamed.

Many crimes of violence are committed by people under 25 years of age and frequently the perpetrators are under the influence of bootleg liquor, the jury found. "This bad whisky seems to produce a desire to commit all sorts of crime from the theft of automobiles to murder."

While sympathizing with the vagrant who is merely one of the jury sharply condemned "criminal" vagrants and expressed feeling "that this element is responsible for many crimes and should never be given rest until safely behind the bars or driven out of this county. This attitude should be absolutely unrelenting. They are not new to us, there are only more numerous than formerly, also bolder since they are banded together in some instances."

The jury recommended that solicitation of votes around election polls for or by a candidate on election day be made a misdemeanor. Announcetation of votes around election polls for or by a candidate on election day be made a misdemeanor. Announcement was made of the re-election of W. P. School System Praised.

The Fulton county school system was found to be in excellent condition, and in smooth and efficient operation, the jury said, praising Superintendent Jere A. Wells and the school board for development of the system. The superintendent and the school board are proceeding with the new building program in a "most thorough and efficient manner in order to accomplish best possible results economically," the jury reported. "We earnestly recommend that the blighting influence of politics be kept out of our schools."

The jury urged the construction of new gusters for the juvenile determined.

The jury urged the construction of new quarters for the juvenile detention home, replacement of old brick buildings at Grady hospital with firebuildings at Grady hospital with fire-resisting construction, and protection of Battle Hill sanitarium against fire. In speaking of Grady, the jury ex-pressed hope "some of our wealthy citizens can co-operate and finan-cially assist the city in accomplishing this much needed improvement." A new police station also was recom-mended. Repair of several bridges be-tween old Milton county and Gwinnet tween old Milton county and Gwinnett county was urged. The jury drew attention to dangerous approaches of the Inman Yards bridge over the railroad tracks, and also the Moore's Mill bridge over the Seaboard Air Line railroad.

Judge John D. Humphries received the presentments. The May-June grand jury will be sworn in Monday by Judge Virlyn B. Moore.

SOCIAL, LIFE BALANCE URGED BY DEAN POUND

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 29, (P)—The problem of an ordered society may be solved by obtaining a balance between individual life and the general security of society, without resorting to either extreme, according to Dean Roscoe Pound, of the Harvard law school.

Dean Pound was the speaker this morning on the institute of justice program at the University of Chattanooga.

"The trouble is not so much with the moral fiber of the American peo-ple, or the spirit of this country, as it is with the changing conditions," the speaker declared. "We are try-ing to obtain an ordered society with machinery that is out of touch with conditions as they are at the present time."

role of record-breaker in the women's national indoor A. A. U. championships today by leading the Washington Athletic Club 400-yard free-style relay team to a new American record.

The Seattle mermaid proved she was more than a match for Miss Josephine McKim, of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, who pressed her hard in the 100-yard free style championship yesterday, by the final lap of a race that went 4 minutes and 19 1-5 seconds.

This eclipsed by one-fifth second the old American mark set in 1930 by the New York Women's Swimming Association.

Miss Madison finished her lap in one minute, one and one-fifth seconds, the classed the seconds, and the old American mark set in 1930 by the final lap of a race that went 4 minutes and 19 1-5 seconds.

Miss Madison finished her lap in one minute, one and one-fifth seconds, two good yards ahead of Miss Mc-Kim, who gave the Los Angeles A. C. second place. The New York association was third, well out of the race.

The first title defender to lose her crown in the meet was Miss Georgia Coleman, of the Los Angeles A. C., who met her first defeat in four years of competition in three-foot spring board diving.

Miss Coleman's teammate, Miss Dorothy Pynton, of the L. A. A. C. and youngest member of the 1928 American Olympic team, displayed better form to win the national crown with 124 points. Miss Coleman had 123. Betty Bayes, of the L. A. A. C., took third.

Pat O'Shocker, the red-head from Utah, who gave Ed (Strangler) Lewis a great battle several weeks ago, will meet Paul Jones, the Texas hook scissors specialty, in the main match of Henry Weber's wrestling card Tuesday night in the city auditorium. That match alone is well worth the while, but the supporting cast promises plenty of action, for George Hills meets Roy (Father) Lumpkin in the one-hour preliminary.

Hills is considered one of the roughest wrestlers in the game, and recently after a match with Floyd Marshall the two staged a first fight just outside the ring to settle their argument.

Although Lumpkin has not been classed as one of the rougher wrestlers he can hold his own in almost

x-New 1932 low. NEW YORK, April 29.-(P)-The bond market sank to new low levels for the year today. Only the United States government list maintained a comparatively steady tone. The average for 60 corporate sec ities declined seven-tenths of a point, ties declined seven-tenths of a point, the same as in yesterday's session, but the activity slackened somewhat. Sales totalled $8.913,000, par value.

While the majority of treasuries and liberties ended with fractional declines, Liberty 4th 41-2s (registered) reached a new high for the year and minor gains were held by Liberty 31-2s and the regular 4th 41-4s.

Announcement of the interstate commission's approval of the interstate commerce commission's approval of loans by the Reconstruction 1 in nance Corporation t. Central of Georgia and other lines brought a spurt in some low priced carriers. Losses of 1 to 5 points were registered by Chesapeake & Ohio 41-2s, New York Central refunding 5s, Southern Pacific and Southern. 1 Czecho 8a '52 ... 90 90 90

APPEAR ON CURB

NEW YORK, April 29.-(A)-Prices continued to ebb in the curb market today. Heaviness spread through virtually all groups. Turnover approximated 130,000 shares.

Electric Bond & Snare closed of 1-2 point.

In the industrials. Ford of Canada A slipped off 3-4 of a point to 71-2, a new low.

Mining issues were mixed, and largely neglected, save for one or two of the low-priced group.

Highlights of Wall Street BY CHARLES W. STORM, Editor, the News Service of Wall Street.

NEW YORK, April 29 .- Wall Street was despondent today follow-ing establishment of new low prices for innumerable stocks. The same unfavorable factors which have been causing a steady decline in the market are present again collectively, it

These factors include selling by banks, increased bearish operations and the absence of favorable news from Washington. The failure of congress to approve President Hoo-ver's economy program is a source of ver's economy program is a source of disappointment.

Professional bears again are circulating reports that large blocks of certain stocks are being offered. When bids are made for these stocks the supposed sellers "change their minds." It was this kind of malicious propaganda which was responsible in a large measure for the investigation of the "bear market."

BEARS IN CAN.

BEARS IN CAN.

BEARS IN CAN.

A group of bear traders is reported to be operating in American Can, which today showed pronounced weakness and touched a new low price. Reports were current that a large block of this stock was being offered for the best bid but inquiry revealed that it was only "mythical stock" that was being offered.

Coincident with the reported offerings privately of this mythical stock rumors of unusually low earnings for the company gained circulation. No one seems to have sufficient courage to report the propagandists to the proper authorities.

The unfavorable action of American Can stock naturally affected Continental Can.

She wrung her hands and cried despairingly "I never had a doll I loved so much and now she is lost and I can't find her." Her big eyes brimmed with tears, her little face was contorted in an effort to hide her grief from strangers. "Don't cry," pleaded her sympathetic father, "if we don't find that doll we shall buy another." "But I don't want another," she wailed, "I want my own doll." A teacher of many years' experience tells me that one of the most trying experiences of her work comes in that period of time following examinations. Say she: "Don't tell me children don't suffer. I have witnessed suffering of the keenest sort on the part of children waiting with breathless expectancy for their grades, fearful that they haven't acquitted themselves well, afraid that they may have forfeited their places on the honor roll, or that they have failed so dismally that they cannot be promoted.

Children know the pain of waiting. Lovers know the pain of waiting. Parents know the pain of waiting. Do you know the pain of waiting? Yes, if your heart knows the joy of loving. Yes, if your life touches any other life with the tender touch of true affection. And the more you love, other life with the tender touch of true affection. And the more you love, the more you wait and the more you wait the more you suffer and the more you suffer the more you live. Birth, life, love, death, all travail, travail forgot in the joy of the thing that is brought to birth.

Culbertson on Contract Inadequate Defense

BY ELY CULBERTSON. World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

Inadequate Defense

Occasionally, a hand is played at the contract table, the results of which are so amazing that, in analyzing them, it is almost impossible to determine how they were reached. Either the declarer fails to realize the trick-taking possibilities of his hand, or defending players fail to utilize the defensive power of theirs, so that cards, otherwise almost worthless, assume, for the moment, the guise of aces and kings and take tricks with triumphant abandon.

Such a hand is one, played recently in a team-of-four match at the Deschapelles Club, New York.

Against the contract of four spades, East opened the ten of diamonds. The knave was played from Dummy, West played the queen and North won with the ace. North now led the singleton heart and followed with the king from dummy, discarding a club. A small heart was then led and trumped in the closed hand. North now led the ace of clubs and the deuce of clubs was trumped with a low spade in Dummy. The king of diamonds was then led, followed by a small diamond, which Declarer trumped. Bribe Refusal Seen In Dry Agent's Death

The man finally chosen to undergo the test—selected by the vote of the young ladies in the NBC studios —will sit before a microphone with electrodes strapped to his wrists, electrodes will catch the currents generated by his heart action. Then the young man will be exposed to influences which, it is hoped, will direct his mind in the desired direction.

If the young man has an inclination to reach, toward the beautiful "influence," this inclination will be broadcast, other inclinations will be broadcast, thereby furnishing young women with an accurate knowledge of their disturbing influence.

Having adjusted itself to its physical environs the world now must adjust itself to its mental environs if civilization is to progress, in the opinion of Dr. George Barton Cutten, president of Colgate University.

Speaking Friday night at the convocation service which began the dedication ceremony of Atlanta University for the establishment there of a graduate school of liberal arts was expressed by the representatives of a number of educational foundations which have contributed to the advancement of negro education.

said he believed that mankind is emerging from lower types but warned that care must be taken to ward off possible degeneration. He warmly praised the university's board of trustees and its benefactors for construction of the new library which, besides being used by the three units of Atlanta University, is to be available to students of Morris Brown, Clark and Gammon, the city's other negro institutions of higher learning.

Dr. Cutten spoke in the Sisters chapel, Spelman, where the dedication ceremonies were started. The formal dedication is to take place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The educator asserted that he believed the use made of leisure time is one of the most important factors in the progress of civilization, saying that if such time is put to evil channels the world will disintegrate but that if it is used for helpful study nothing but good can result.

"It is important that every good university and college be equipped with an adequate library." Dr. Cutten said. 12-Year-Old Eskimo Boy Hauls Sled To Save Life Hauls Sled To Save Life OTTAWA, April 29.—(P)—A 12year-old Eskimo boy took a high place today in the long roster of heroes of the far north. Harnessed to a sled with two alling dogs, he saved his sick mother's life by pulling her over 160 miles of ice and snow to safety at Wager inlet post. The feat, performed in the midst of winter, the wildest time of the year, is described by Constable J. W.
